MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

The Federal League which pries the lid off of the 1915 baseball season today, promises to furnish fandom with the real major league brand of baseball and a real battle for the pennant.

There are eight clubs in the junior league and eight clubs look to have a chance for the big honors. There never was a league, in which the whole circuit seemed as evenly balanced as is the Federal League this year.

The Pittsburgh Club, when we saw it in its training camp, struck us as being one of the best looking outfits that ever was gathered together. It is a team that seems to be strong in every department and with a secondary outfit almost as powerful as the first.

Then there's those Indianapolis Reds who rank as the greatest slugging outfit in baseball history. The team had nine or ten .300 hitters last year and the team, as a whole, averaged close to .300 in clubbing. It seems just as strong—even stronger—this year than last and the team that beats Indianapolis probably will be the team that gets the pennant.

Joe Tinker's Chicago White Sox certainly will be in the fight. Josephus has the greatest collection of pitchers in the Federal League. He has a fine lot of catchers, a wonderful outfield and Fell From a Ladder.

John L. Tanner is confined to his home, No. 60 Pearl street, with injuries received when he fell from a ladder on Friday. Mr. Tanner had placed the ladder against the side of the house preparatory to getting on the roof, when the ladder slipped and he fell to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet. Fortunately he escaped with a bad shaking up and no bones were broken. No serious results are expected to follow his fall.

PLANS TO RECEIVE VISITING FIREMEN

At a meeting of the local committee to arrange for the firemen's convention in June held at the central fire station on Friday night, it was reported that great progress was being made by the various committees. The subscriptions were reported as coming in in fine shape and the success of the convention was already assured.

Chairman Dunne of the reception committee reported that aides had been appointed to welcome every arriving company. Each aide will have five assistants to show the companies where to report to the entertaining company and to take them to their place in the line of march.

The souvenir committee also reported progress and a fine lot of advertisements was reported as having been already obtained.

As to storing apparatus, E. Oth Van Aken said he had been in conference with Captain Meagher of Company M for the use of the armory and that he had been informed that it could be stored there if the convention furnished a small bond. Application had already been made to feed some of the visitors in the armory but nothing definite had yet been arranged.

The hotel committee reported that communications had been received from a number of hotels.

TO ORGANIZE JUNIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

The baseball fever is in the air and on next Friday afternoon there will be a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 4:15 o'clock to organize a junior baseball league to play this summer. Six teams have signified their intention of entering and any junior team that desires to play in the league should notify Physical Director Godfrey not later than next Friday morning and should make it a point to have a representative present at the meeting that afternoon. The six teams so far entered are the Lindsay Club of the Federation House, Student B class, and Schools No. 5, 1, 8 and 6.

Friday morning the first practice game of the season was played at the Athletic Field between the teams of School No. 5 and the Student B class, which resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 12 to 7. Today the Student B team played another practice game with School No. 6.

The Methodists Win.

Friday evening the bowling team representing Trinity M. E. Church of Wurts street defeated a team representing the Temple Emanuel on Abuel street. But two games were rolled on the Y. M. C. A. alleys, with the Methodists scoring 1,681 to the 1,358 pins of their opponents. The summary:

Fred Gillespie an old fashioned scoundrel on Tuesday night. Freddie was a great favorite among the young boys as he was always ready to be "one of them."

John Wood, and Mahlon Smith left this place for Davenport Center on Monday to take their positions with DeCraff & Hogeboom. These gentlemen will be greatly missed in this place especially in the church. Mr. Wood is the efficient superintendent of the M. E. Sunday school, also a great church worker. Mr. Smith is also a great helper in our church, and a member of the choir. John Boeke will take charge of the Sunday school until Mr. Wood returns.

Mrs. S. M. Van Vliet is reported ill.

Robert Stahl entertained Russell Bishop, Misser Smith, Miss Margaret Keator, Vera Eiselbee and Pearl Keator at his home on Saturday evening. Miss Isabella White and Miss Leona Lanz, who were Easter guests at Echo Lodge, have returned to their homes in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Charles Bishop was given a very pleasant birthday surprise at her home on Monday night, April 5. About 35 of her friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Keator, from there they marched to the home of Mrs. Bishop, stealing quietly up to the door they rang the bell. Mr. Bishop opened the door and invited them in. The surprise was a decided success. Mrs. Bishop was engaged reading the Daily Freeman and evidently not expecting company. The evening was spent in music, games and social chat. The party brought all the good things to eat with them and a delicious luncheon was served at 1:30. The merry-making then continued until an early hour in the morning when the visitors departed, declaring they never had a better time and wishing Mrs. Bishop many more happy birthdays.

A Trip

Fare, $1.00.—Advertisement.

In preparing this wash, about 1-3 of the total quantity of water required is heated in a cooking barrel or vessel; the lime then added, and the sulphur immediately afterwards. The sulphur should be previously, however, have been made into a thick paste with water. After the lime has slaked, about another third of the water should be added and the cooking continued for an hour, when the rest of the water is put in. During the time of cooking, stirring is necessary if the wash is cooked in kettles. It must also be strained as it is run into the spray tank.

Comparatively few fruit growers now employ this method, because this wash must be applied immediately after it is cooked—otherwise there is crystallization of the sulphur and hardening of the sediment upon cooling. The cooking is also inconvenient. It is for these reasons that manufacturers put on the market concentrated solutions of lime-sulphur already mentioned, and which when used at proper strength are quite as satisfactory as the oldtime formula. When lime-sulphur concentrates are made at home, the so-called 50-100-50 formula is frequently used. This is composed of 50 pounds of lime, 100 pounds of sulphur, and water to make 50 gallons—the respective ingredients being oil together for 50 minutes to an hour, while the mixture is vigorously stirred either by hand or by a mechanical agitator. As soon as the cooking is over, the solution should be drawn off and run through a 20-mesh strainer into barrels; the agitation being continued all this time in order to effect an equal distribution of the sludge. When properly stirred this solution can be kept for a year or more before being used. Such concentrates vary considerably in strength, and it is important that they be tested with a hydrometer.

"Millecime oils." However, which are commercial preparations, are now largely used by those requiring oil sprays in preference to the home-made emulsions. Treatment with these oils is probably desirable only when the infestation is very severe and experience has shown that the scale will not be controlled by lime-sulphur sprays. Soap washes made from fishoil soap are also used to some extent at the rate of two pounds to the gallon of water, and always on trees in a dormant condition.

OLIVE APPLE TREE SUIT.

On Second Trial Telephone Company Wins the Case.

In the action brought by Henry C. Elmdorf of the town of Olive against the New York Telephone Company, for cutting one of his apple trees, which was tried before Mathias Burger, Justice of the peace of the town of Olive, at Ashokan, Monday, April 5, Judge Burger has dismissed the complaint of Mr. Elmdorf with costs against him.

This action was formerly brought before Justice of the Peace Buswell of the town of Olive, last October. Justice Buswell rendered judgment against the New York Telephone Company for $135. The New York Telephone Company appealed to the county court and Judge Jenkins reversed the judgment and ordered a new trial before Justice of the Peace Mathias Burger. Judge Burger after hearing the case has found that Mr. Elmdorf had no cause of action against the Telephone Company. It is understood that Mr. Elmdorf is going to appeal.

Frank W. Brooks, of the firm of Rose & Brooks, appeared for Mr. Elmdorf, and D. G. Atkins for the Telephone Company.

Madame, Why Not Rent Your Extra Rooms?

Why don't you make the extra rooms in your house help pay your rent? There are a lot of fine young people who would be delighted to take them at a good price. Very often persons looking for rooms run a little Want Ad in our Classified Advertising section. Perhaps you will find the ad of the very roomer you want there now. Turn to it and see. If not, just send us a little Want Ad describing the rooms you have for rent. It is pretty certain to find a roomer for you. Want Ads cost but a few pennies.
